One Garrison Around Beaumont Hamel Caught at Breakfast.

MATERIAL IS VERY INFERIOR

British Officers Say Better Soldiers Had Apparently Been Moved to the Shallow Trenches Elsewhere on the Front; Hard Blow Is Struck.

Copyright 1916 by Associated Press.
FRANCE, Nov. 13, via London, Nov. 14.—The Germans were apparently completely surprised by this morning's attack in the valley of the Ancre. An evidence of this was found in the fact that the garrison of the trenches around Beaumont Hamel were preparing for breakfast at the very moment when the British infantry stormed the positions. The British, after partially clearing the underground galleries and rounding up 700 prisoners, proceeded to eat their prisoners' breakfast, telling the captives that they would be fed when they arrived within the British lines.

A total of nearly 4,000 prisoners has so far been sent to the cages, including a regimental commander who was captured in a duel with a major, an adjutant and a number of other officers.

The majority of the prisoners are German and according to the British officers, very inferior fighting material. The German higher command depended apparently on the supposed impregnable character of the old front line and its strongly fortified villages, rather than on the stamina of the troops.

The British officers believe that the Germans withdrew their best men for service elsewhere on the British front, where the new and shallower positions to which the defenders have been forced demand greater resistance power on the part of the infantry.

The British losses were unusually light, owing largely to the unexpected feeble character of the German machine gun fire at Beaumont Hamel and St. Pierre division. Large numbers of German shells were found strewn in the wrecked trenches of the original front line. This line consisted of four parallel rows of trenches, the last being flanked with the western face of Beaumont Hamel.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The number of prisoners taken by the British in the fighting in the Ancre sector, of the Somme front is now over 4,000, according to an official statement issued by the war office today. The capture of Beaumont Hamel which was reported unofficially yesterday, is announced in today's statement.

GERMANS ARE REPULSED.
PARIS, Nov. 14.—A strong German detachment made an attack last night west of Aubertin, in the Champagne, the war office announces. The assault was checked by the French. South of the Somme in the vicinity of Premont there was active artillery fighting.

RUSSIANS RETIRE.
BERLIN, Nov. 14.—Russian forces have retired from the Goryzno mountains in Northern Transylvania to the Rumanian frontier as a result of German and Austro-Hungarian attacks, says today's official statement.
To the south of Tulghe Pass, Bavarian and Austro-Hungarian battalions made progress despite the stubborn defense of the Rumanians.

FIRE ON GERMAN BOAT
COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Nov. 14.—The Mergensbladt says that a Norwegian torpedo boat has fired on a German steamer which refused to stop when passing Stavanger.
The Norwegian fired a shot at the fighting, the newspaper says, then boarded the steamer and dismantled her wireless.

Since the beginning of the war foreign ships have not been permitted to carry wireless installations when in Norwegian waters.

CONCEDE BRITISH GAIN.
BERLIN, Nov. 14.—The suburbs defense made by the Germans on the positions near the river Ancre, which were attacked yesterday by the British, caused the defenders to suffer important losses, the war office announced today. The capture by the British of Beaumont Hamel and St. Pierre Division with the lateral connecting line is reported.

DOUBT GRAVES' STORY.

German Officials Do Not Believe He Got Documents from East II.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The German embassy does not believe that Karl Aringard Graves, self-styled international spy, secured from the steamship Oscar. It is his story that the letters he is alleged to have used in an attempt to extort $2,000 from Countess von Bernstorff, wife of the German ambassador.

Graves will be arraigned for a preliminary hearing here tomorrow before United States Commissioner Taylor.

COLD WAVE NOW MOVING ON EAST

Seems to be Losing Its Intensity, But It Is Bringing Snow and Sleet Along.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The cold wave from the Rocky Mountain region continued to move eastward today and freezing temperatures had extended southward to the Mexican border, where the troops were feeling the effects. The coldest place today was Lander, Wyo., where it was 10 degrees below zero.

Public, Colorado, and Valentine, Neb., reported eight below; Charles City, Ia., and North Platte, Neb., four below; and Huron, S. D., two below. The advancing cold was being felt throughout the Middle West and practically all states east of the Mississippi, but it seemed to be losing its intensity as it moved eastward. Snow has been falling in New England, in the New York, the Great Lakes region and the Upper Mississippi valley, while rain, sleet and snow were falling in the Ohio valley and Tennessee. A cold front in the West Gulf states and in the Middle States and Southern States is predicted to overtake the Atlantic and East Gulf states tonight and Wednesday, and the Upper Ohio Valley and Lower Lake regions tonight.

A SECOND BREMEN

Another Submarine Being Built for Transatlantic Trade.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Another great transatlantic submarine to take the place of the Bremen, sister ship of the Deutschland, which was lost with all hands on her maiden voyage to the United States, now is being built in Germany. Definite information regarding the new vessel is lacking.

The submarine, it is said here, will be purely mercantile in character, her arrangement being similar to that of the Deutschland. It is not known when the vessel will be ready for her first trip to the United States.

The Deutschland, it was learned today, will not carry any regular mail from the United States to Germany on her return trip.

Switchmen Declare They Are After Shorter Working Hours.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The switchmen of the railroads east of the Mississippi want a straight eight hour day and are not seeking eight hour employment in order to do an actual 10 hour work with extra pay for the overtime, according to F. D. Beld, a Baltimore and Ohio switchman employed at the road's Chicago terminal.

Reed was a witness here today before the arbitration board which is seeking to settle the men's demands. They ask three shifts of eight hours each.

"There is a belief among the men that they could do more work in eight hours," Reed added. "When they come to work now they are not fresh."

SENATE TO PROBE
MISUSE OF MONEY
IN 1916 CAMPAIGN

Administration Officials Say That Inquiry Will be Started.

REPUBLICANS WILL TAKE PART

Just as Anxious as Democrats to Know How Funds Were Spent; New Senate Will Have Contests from Indiana and West Virginia to be Settled.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—A senatorial investigation of alleged misuse of money in the Presidential campaign was announced definitely today by administration officials. Prohibitory laws have been made and a resolution providing the machinery for the inquiry is ready to be introduced soon after Congress convenes next month. It was stated today that evidence was being collected, but its details were not disclosed. The plan is to call those actually in charge of the campaign before the Senate committee and investigate the details of their transactions.

Various reports concerning use of money in certain states have come to Democratic headquarters as well as Republican headquarters.

Investigation into alleged attempts to collect illegal votes in Indiana and West Virginia, particularly, was begun several weeks before the election. In these states Democratic leaders are planning to contest the election of United States senators. Before the polls had closed last Tuesday charges of corruption were being openly made by Democratic chiefs and predictions were freely circulated that exposures would follow the election.

Evidence is being gathered upon which to base contests in the election of Harry S. New and James E. Watson as senators from Indiana, and Representative Howard Sutherland as senator from West Virginia. New, on the face of the Indiana returns, defeated Majority Leader Kern and Watson won from Senator Taggart, Sutherland, in West Virginia, defeated Senator Chilton.

It was charged by Democrats that reports were collected from the south in states where the Republicans triumphed by small majorities. If contests were brought they will have to be initiated in the new Senate, as each legislative body is the judge of its own members. The Democrats will contest the new Senate by a majority of 12 votes.

UP TO A COMMITTEE

Scottish Councilmen Hope to Reach Agreement With Freeman.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—After a session lasting for three hours, Borough Council last evening named H. G. Martz, J. E. Thinsman, R. F. Percy, F. W. Moorhead, C. W. Cunningham, J. F. Hardy and R. W. Stoner as a committee of councilmen to confer with the officers of the volunteer fire department to consider ways and means of reaching an agreement on the proposed reorganization of the department.

With the acquisition of motor-driven fire equipment, the councilmen are anxious to have a central fire station established in the borough building, a plan which does not meet the entire favor of the volunteers. There are now four volunteer companies, and none of them is anxious to give up its present quarters. The Fourth Ward company, in Brownstown, has announced that it will not abandon its station, even if it has to rent a private garage for its equipment. The Third Ward company is after a new house at the far end of Pittsburg street.

Council wants the volunteer company to be organized into a fire company, while the fire department is planning a paid department and has in view the creation of some salaried jobs for political workers.

The councilmen hope their committee and the firemen may reach an amicable understanding.

FLOOR COLLAPSES
UNDER POTATOES

Carlton in Produce Man's Warehouse Causes Beans to Give Way; Near Panic in Neighborhood.

There was much excitement on Peach street yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock when a carload of potatoes stored in the warehouse of E. T. Rubin, provision merchant, caused the floor to collapse. The sound of cracking wood brought out the employees of various shops and stores in the immediate vicinity and a big crowd congregated before the cause was ascertained.

Mr. Rubin had received the carload of potatoes during the day and they were stored in a corner of the warehouse. Their weight caused too great a strain upon the timbering and with much cracking and cracking the floor settled about three feet.

Employees of the Tri-State Candy Company and of the various shoe shops, restaurants, barber shops and other business places of the vicinity looked on the excitement, fearing that an earthquake had visited the section. A bystander remarked that it was the first time potatoes had gone down in a long time.

STAKEHOLDER BETS.

He Loses on Hughes, and Is Now Up Against It.

A certain Understown man is said to be in very much of a quandary as the result of an election bet. It seems that he was chosen stakeholder of a $300 wager. So confident was he of the election of Charles E. Hughes that he wagered the stakes on his own account. Then Wilson won.

The winner of the bet, he is out his own $100 and the $400 he won. The stakeholder is safe enough as far as legal action goes, for the law does not sanction actions to recover on bets, but his reputation hangs in the balance.

SUIT OVER GRADE OF MAIN STREET IS BEFORE JURY

Veech Estate Appeals From Award Made by County Viewers.

THE CITY IS THE DEFENDANT

Jury Views the Premises and Taking of Testimony Is Begun; With City Clerk A. O. Bixler as First Witness; Other Civil Trials Are Started.

Special to The Courier.
UNIONTOWN, Nov. 14.—The trial of the suit of Louise Veech, Katherine A. V. Howell and James A. Veech against the city of Connellsville for damages to three lots in West Main street, Connellsville, caused by a change of grade, was begun today before Judge J. C. Van Swearingen. The action is an appeal from the award of the county viewers, who gave the Veech heirs $975. Yesterday the jury was selected and taken to Connellsville, where the three lots on the hill were shown to the jury.

Claim is made by the Veech heirs that the work, which was started by the city of Connellsville in 1907, caused a depreciation in the value of the property. The grade in front of the lots in West Main street, formerly Ashman avenue, was cut in some places. It was testified, as much as six or seven feet.

City Clerk A. O. Bixler of Connellsville testified today. He presented the records of the city of Connellsville and the borough of New Haven, showing that the municipal authorities took action regarding the change of grade.

City Solicitor E. C. Higbee of Connellsville, is not representing the city in the trial of this case, having formerly been retained by the Veech heirs before he became solicitor. He withdrew as counsel on both sides.

Attorneys McDonald & Gray are representing the city and the attorneys at the defendant's counsel table is Connellsville John Duggan.

A verdict for $59.67 in favor of the plaintiff was returned in Judge Roberts' court today, following the trial of the action of Angeline James against Frank Hughes and Mike Day, two foreign bankers of New Salem, Jan., who testified that he deposited a sum of money with the bankers for transmission to Europe, and claimed that it never was sent. His suit was for the recovery of the money, and the verdict was for the full amount.

Before Judge Roberts was tried the suit of Frank Baruch against Mike Josko and John Koloschek for $5,000 damages for personal injuries. Testimony was introduced by the plaintiff to show that in September, 1915, at Continental No. 3 in the mine, Josko and Koloschek attacked him with a pit prop and a cap and severely injured him.

SMASHING THE PIPE

South Side Kids Topple Over and Break Sections of Sewer Conduits.

South side kids are breaking the large sewer pipe for the Race street sewer right and left these days. City street officials are beginning to fear that when they start work on the sewer they won't have enough pipe left to complete the job.

The larger pipes cannot be harmed by the youngsters but it is an easy matter to push over sections of the smaller pipe which stand along the curb. At the street intersection the pipe falls upon the brick paving and is smashed. One resident of that section pointed four broken sections of one street, some of them smashed to fragments.

City Engineer S. M. Foster asked council to start work soon on the sewer, remarking that something would have to be done or the pipes would be broken. It was decided to do the work with the city chain gang, Mayor Marietta promising plenty of labor out of police court. Arrangements for a guard to see that the men stay on the job will be made.

STRUCK BY AUTO.

Greenwood Man Is Said to Have Stepped In Front of Machine.

G. W. Frost of Greenwood, 45 years old, is in the Cottage State Hospital for treatment of two fractured ribs suffered last night about 9 o'clock when he stepped from the Main street pavement in the West Side in front of an automobile driven by A. N. Delahut. The injured man was immediately removed to the hospital.

Mrs. Lizzie Love of Star Junction, 30 years old, was admitted to the hospital yesterday. Miss Barbara Burke of the West Side, left the hospital yesterday.

MORRELL AVENUE
PAVING TOO HIGH

Property Owners Protest Against Assessments Made by City for Improvement Work There.

Residents of Morrell avenue, West Side, complained to council last night that although there was less work on Morrell avenue than on any other street paving job undertaken recently, and though the West Penn paid one-third, their assessment per foot front was far higher. Alex Hart addressed council on the matter, contending that there surely was some mistake. According to Mr. Hart, the assessment on Morrell avenue is $3.56 per foot front, which is a higher rate than for the Willis road paving. There was little curb to lay on this street, Mr. Hart declared, and comparatively little grading, whereas curbing had to be put in along the entire length of Willis road, and the grading was expensive. He said there was some grading done on what is known as "the boulevard," and expressed the belief that this was charged in on the Morrell avenue contract.

Solicitor Higbee explained that the viewers who made the assessments merely figured up the individual costs upon the totals furnished them by the city. He said property owners were given notice of assessment and opportunity to protest at hearings before the viewers. Mr. Hart replied to this by stating that he had appeared before the viewers and made his protest but had received no satisfaction.

J. J. Driscoll, council, said that he had never received a notice of his paving assessment.

Mr. Hart said that only one piece of curbing was laid by the contractor. This, he claimed, should have been assessed against the particular property owner and not included in the total cost of the job and assessed proportionately against all of them.

Councilman Duggan promised to take the matter up and adjust the error, if possible. He said that even though the time for protesting officially may have passed, it is council's duty to rectify any errors that may crop up.

MILL TOWN CELEBRATION

Democrats Will Have a Jollification on Friday Night.

The Democrats of Scottdale and Everson are to celebrate their election victory on Friday night. A meeting was held last evening when the details were discussed. Postmaster J. P. Owens of Scottdale acted as chairman, and Charles E. O'Neill, of Everson, was the secretary.

There will be a parade, red brass bands, speeches and everything else that goes to make up a campaign celebration the real thing. Best of all, however, is the determination of the committee to permit nothing that will offend anyone. They have been assured the hearty co-operation of Republicans, who believe the Democrats have earned the right to have a good time and propose to help them have it. It will be a celebration of victory, but a good natured one.

The publicity committee in charge of the affair is composed of Mr. E. Young, D. J. Giblin, J. D. Shiley, E. Keller, William Taylor, E. L. Loughrey and Harry Kennell. The finance committee includes Harry Kromer, W. G. Sherrick, John Hokin, Cleon King, Edward Miller, Samuel Gaffney and Harry Loughrey.

JOHNSON PAYS UP.

Karpich Gets Money, Though Restaurant Man Denies Short Changing.

Donald Johnson, restaurant keeper, charged with short-changing Harry Karpich, fastidiously denied the charge at a hearing last night before Alderman Munk, but paid to Karpich the money which he claimed. Karpich paying for a meal, handed Johnson a $20 bill, he says, and did not receive enough change. The hearing was held after Johnson had paid Karpich the money demanded last night, though the charges against the restaurant man were dropped.

Swatchik has filed a cross suit before Alderman Fred Munk, charging Vlassak with assault and battery. The hearing in this case will be this evening.

True Bill Against Welmer.

A true bill was returned yesterday by the federal grand jury at Pittsburgh against Blaine Welmer, former Connellsville mail carrier, accused of stealing money from the mails. His trial will come up soon.

CRAWFORD AVENUE
NEW NAME OF MAIN
AFTER NOVEMBER 23

Council Passes Ordinance Revising Titles of Thoroughfares.

OLD CRAWFORD TO BE LINCOLN

Councilman West Casts Only Dissenting Vote Against the Measure, Contending That "Main Street" Is Good Enough; Duplications Are Avoided.

After November 23, if you happen to live on Main street, you must be careful to write it "Crawford avenue," and if you live on what is now Crawford avenue, do not forget that its name has been changed to "Lincoln avenue." The ordinance renaming streets of which there were duplications in various parts of the city was adopted by city council last night, and in the changes was that renaming "Main street" in honor of Colonel William Crawford, Connellsville's distinguished pioneer.

All of the councilmen voted in favor of the changes except Mr. West, who was unwilling to change "Main street" and thus further honor Colonel Crawford. "Main street is good enough for me," he remarked. Mayor Marietta said there were too many names for the street now. "Why not call it all Main street?" Mr. West asked.

The ordinance becomes effective 10 days after the date of its passage, consequently it will be proper to write the new names on mail matter after November 23.

The other changes included in the ordinance follow:

NEW NAME	OLD NAME
Bottom	First
Association	Third
Alexander	Fourth
McCormick	Eighth
Johnson	Tenth
Stable	Crawford (street)
Penn	Connell ally
Collins	Eleventh

Mr. West was also of the opinion that there was a Jefferson street in the East Park addition, but reference to a plan of the lots disclosed no such name. Mr. Duggan said this could be gotten around by renaming any other Jefferson street that might crop up in the future.

Council decided to meet as a committee of the whole at 10 o'clock on November 21 to view two proposed street extensions. At that time it is expected that some definite steps to extend French street through from Francis avenue to Fayette street will be taken for the benefit of school children attending the Third Ward building who now have to make a long detour by way of Eighth street. This matter has been advocated for many years, but it seems probable that action will be had on it in the near future.

"I've heard this talk for years and years," remarked Mayor Marietta. "Now let's do something. Let's get the viewers on it, and if it is necessary to buy some property, let's buy it and be done with it."

NO AGREEMENT ON CELEBRATION

Uniontown Wants to Hog the Democra's Big Time Over the Election of Wilson.

County Democrats cannot quite agree when and how to celebrate the Wilson victory. Uniontown wants Connellsville to "chip in" to a general fund for one big celebration for the whole county, to be held, of course, in Uniontown.

The Uniontown element contends that inasmuch as they carried the county at the election, the celebration should be held there. Connellsville Democrats cannot see it that way, even though a Uniontown newspaper has already taken unto itself all the credit that is lying around in connection with the election.

The Connellsville celebration was postponed until Thursday night because other towns were supposed to have preempted the remaining nights of the week for celebrations of their own. Perryopolis was to have its jubilee last night but somehow or other the affair fell through. Uniontown has as yet made no announcement of its plans.

The candidates are: Jean Sandies, Daisy Tremblay, Anna Klenish, Inez Tremblay, Myrtle Klenish, Hazel Horlick, Catherine Somerville, Mary Murphy, Kathleen Trevitt and Hazel Tremblay.

Will Discuss Penmanship. M. E. Bennett, whose system of penmanship is used in the Connellsville township schools will meet with the teachers of that township Saturday morning at the L. L. Scholnick building to give them instructions. Other teachers interested are invited.

COUNTY INSTITUTE OPENS DECEMBER 18

A Good Program is Arranged This Year by Superintendent John S. Carroll.

Announcement was made last evening of the program for the thirty-third annual teachers' institute of Fayette county which will be held in the West End Theatre, Uniontown, December 18-22. County Superintendent John S. Carroll has arranged what seems to be the most attractive institute program ever secured for the Fayette county institute and the instructors are among the best known educators in the country.

The list of instructors includes Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, state superintendent of public instruction, of Harrisburg; Superintendent F. W. Wright of the Uniontown public schools; Dr. Fred L. Kessler of Lansing, Mich.; state superintendent of schools of Michigan; Dr. O. L. Warren, of Elmira, N. Y.; Dr. Jasper L. M. Brien, of Washington, D. C.; and Dr. Edwin E. Sparks, of State College, Pa.

The announcement that Jerry March will lead the music at the institute will be greeted with a very great deal of pleasure by the teachers of Fayette county. Professor March has directed the music at many Fayette county institutes and his appearance each year is expected by the teachers. Mrs. Maude W. MacDonald, whose excellent work as a soloist, chorist and accompanist, will again be present at the institute this year, as will be Miss Margaret Horne, of West Virginia University, of Morgantown, W. Va., one of the most accomplished violinists in the United States. Professor George Phillips, of Uniontown, will be the pianist and George Hewitt, also of Uniontown, will be orchestra director.

Teachers may enroll for the institute on Saturday, December 16, and on Monday mornings, following. Enrollment for both days will begin at 8 o'clock in the morning at the West End Theatre. Half the seats will be on sale Saturday and half the seats on Monday.

ELEVEN GIVEN HEARINGS

Three Men, Disorderly on Bridge, are Arrested by Patrolman Rull.

Police court was held at 7 o'clock this morning, since City Clerk A. O. Bixler's presence in Uniontown court was necessary today. Eleven prisoners were given hearings before Mayor Marietta and thus and forfeits collected for the month of November.

William Shears, Neal Addis and Esplan Robinson, who were disorderly on the bridge at 6:30 last night, were arrested by Patrolman P. M. Rull and were sentenced by the mayor this morning. Addis and Robinson, charged with disorderly conduct, each received a 30-day sentence. Shears, who is charged with disorderly conduct and carrying concealed weapons, will be given a hearing on the latter charge before Alderman Fred Munk today.

Grandmother's Medicines. Our grandmothers were wise in the virtues of the herbs of the field. They used to gather and store roots and herbs and use them to cure the ailments of their families—wornwood, thoroughwort, sage, rue, camomile—the list might go on and on and on of the healing plants with which they made us familiar.

Now their granddaughters get the extracts from just such good old roots and herbs from the nearest druggist, ready prepared for use. One such medicine, which women find best for their own ailments, is the well-known Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.—Adv.

The Direct Action Gas Range. with Oven Heat Regulator. is the most wonderful stove in the market today. The Direct Action was always famous for many points of superiority over other gas ranges. With the addition of the Oven Regulator there is no other range that can equal it.

The Regulator enables you to measure the oven heat precisely. There is no thermometer to watch or read. All you do is set a marked wheel valve that gives you fifty different oven temperatures.

The most wonderful part is that you can always repeat any temperature to a degree as often as you like. Whatever degrees gives you best success for any particular recipe can always be repeated at will.

Isn't that splendid? You never guess—YOU ALWAYS KNOW. The leading Domestic Science Experts of the Country have endorsed the Regulator.

Tested and approved by Good House-keeping Institute under Seal 1566. You are invited to the Free Demonstrations Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at F. T. EVANS, 136 South Pittsburgh Street.

Council Says the Kobacker Property Is Dangerous; Fire Marshal May Act.

SEWER IMPROVEMENTS DEFERRED

Solons Find Fund Is Overdrawn; Purchase of Overflows for Polesmen Also Discussed at Special Meeting of Council; Dramatic Club Formed.

Special to The Courier.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Nov. 14.—Council held a special meeting last evening when the finance committee read a report on the finances of the borough treasury, showing that the paving and sewer fund was overdrawn to the amount of $161.33 and that in the general fund there was a little over $1,000. A motion was adopted that, owing to the report of the finance committee on monies available for sewers, the bids be returned to the persons bidding on the Oak and Sycamore street sewers. Chief Fire Marshal E. H. Swartz made a report to council concerning the condition of the old Kobacker building in Main street which he considered very dangerous to the safety of nearby buildings. Mr. Swartz stated that the rooms were filled with old boxes and papers that were put up in the windows to advertise above; that these were taken down from time to time and thrown back; that the boys broke in and played there and that it was really dangerous. Harry Kobacker, who owns the building is in Youngstown, O., and it was decided by council to have the property sold. Mr. Kobacker said that something must be done once to have the borough rid of the nuisance. Mr. Swartz as chief fire marshal will have the power to condemn the building if this is not done, the procedure must go through court. The matter of overflows for the police was brought up and it was stated to the police committee that they had the power to act in buying the overflows. Adam Porter invited to rest of the council members to march in the Democrats' parade to which some of the Republican members declined with thanks.

Take Cascarets to-night and you will wake up with a clear head and your cold will be gone. Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels. Remember the quickest way to get rid of colds is one or two Cascarets at night to cleanse the system. Get a 10-cent box at any drug store. Don't forget the children. They relish this Candy Cathartic and it is often all that is needed to drive a cold from their little system.—Adv.

ESTATE GAINS RICHES

Boom in Shipping Makes Legal Delay Profitable for Heirs.

By Associated Press.
EDINBURGH, Scotland, Nov. 14.—A striking illustration of the increase in value of shipping since 1914 is given in a will contest now before the Edinburgh courts. The estate involved is that of John Galt, a Glasgow ship-owner who died in December, 1914. At the date of his death his property was officially valued at slightly over $100,000. The division of the estate was prevented by litigation among the heirs, and it was slated at the final hearing in the case that the value of the property has increased, during the time devoted to legal wranglings, to over a million dollars.

Think the Value of Something in General Use Here.

For centuries France ignored the check book and stuck to coin and currency. But the tremendous increase in business brought about by the war necessitated something less cumbersome. Today the French Government is actually instructing its citizens in the use of checks as the simplest and safest way to make payments. Do you pay by check? Why that knock Bent cam-shaft? Maybe. Timing-gears a little loose? Perhaps. Ten-to-one, the power plant is chuck-full of carbon. And it was only last month you had the valves reground. Good Night! There you are—the symptoms are unmistakable: improper lubrication.

Atlantic Motor Oils will offset that condition like magic. They will diminish carbon to an absolute minimum—and the knock will take to the tall timber in the bargain.

Atlantic Motor Oils are not prescribed as a panacea for car-troubles, but they are recommended by the oldest and largest manufacturers of lubricating oils in the world as the correct lubricants for all makes of motors. Polarine, the famous year-round lubricant, is exactly right for eight out of ten cars. Under certain conditions, your particular motor may require one of the other principal motor oils—Atlantic "Light," Atlantic "Medium," or Atlantic "Heavy." Your garage man will advise you which.

Actual tests demonstrate that proper lubrication often increases gasoline-mileage by as much as five miles to the gallon. That's worth considering.

Read up on this subject. We have published a handsome and comprehensive book about lubrication. It is free. Ask your garage for it. If they cannot supply you, drop us a postal and the book will be sent you without charge.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"ROLLING STONES"—A five part Famous Players production starring Owen Moore and Marguerite Courtot, and the 18th chapter of "Gloria's Romance," with Blaise Burke in the leading role, are being presented today. In "Rolling Stones," there are distinct comedy touches. In the production Del Henderson makes his Paramount debut and Marguerite Courtot her Paramount entrance as a leading lady. Owen Moore, as Dave Fulton, heads the skillfully selected cast. Miss Courtot is seen in the role of Norma Norris, the daughter of the boarding house keeper. In "Gloria's Romance," which is drawing near an end, Gloria Starford, after forcing confession from the lips of Dr. Royce and Judge Freeman as to what happened the night her fiancé, Dr. Fremont, was killed, learns that all the evidence points toward her brother, David Starford, as the murderer. She then David and leads him to the upper room, in which Gideon Trask, the man Gloria has seen choking Fremont to death, is recovering from injuries received when he was captured aboard his barge in the Hudson river. Gloria believes David must have hired Trask to commit the murder and that when he is brought face to face with the murderer he will confess. When they arrive in the room they discover Trask has disappeared, having been aided in his escape by Judge Freeman, who feared a confession would fasten the guilt upon David Starford. Gloria shows Lois the letters and demands that she confess all to David. Lois refuses and tries to hurl herself to death in front of a moving train, but is prevented by Gloria. Finally Gloria is satisfied that her love is as dependable as he had been accused of being. Tomorrow Wilfred Rummy will be seen in "The Rummy." A Triangle production in five acts.

"THE NEER DO WELL"—The Selig Co. new version, which is considered the greatest moving picture production since "The Birth of a Nation," will be presented Thursday at the Paramount. Kathleen Williams, the famous star who played Cherry Maletto in "The Spoilers," is at her best in this great play, and she is supported by the original Spoilers cast. W. N. Selig sent the entire company to Panama in order to get the proper atmosphere. The picture has created a sensation wherever it is shown. The film is taken from one of the best road works of Rex Beach and the photography is excellent throughout. The production is full of action and although it takes two and one-half hours to run, one incident follows another, and the interest is unusual and sustained throughout. There are hand-to-hand conflicts, a great fire, beautiful tropical scenery and the odd nooks and corners of old Panama in all their quaint picturesque. It is a story full of unfamiliar fascination of Panama.

DICTIONARY THEATRE.

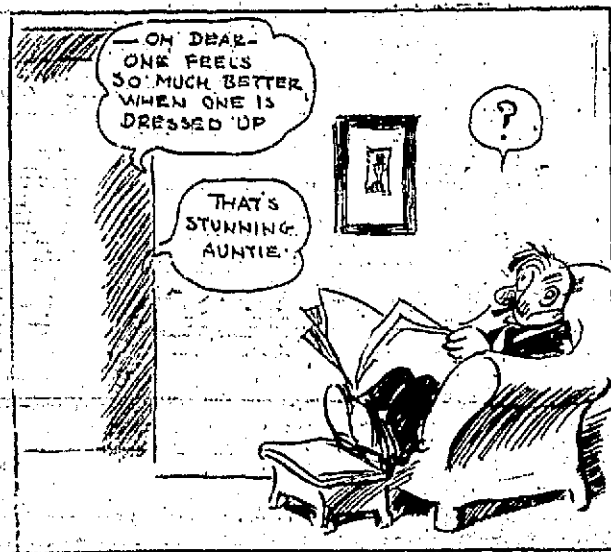

"THE PRINCE CHAP"—A five reel Selig drama with Marshall Nollan and Benjie Byron in the leading roles. "The Prince Chap" is a soul-stirring drama of conflicting emotions, of the passionate love of a maid for a man, pitted against the machinations of a cold and calculating woman of the world. "Terrors of a Turkish Bath," a two-reel comedy with Ben Russell, Dan is the proud possessor of a new job and a new wife. He is the attendant in a Turkish bath establishment and all he has to do is to see that all the patrons are happy. "The Midnight Toll," a Laemmle drama. Animated Weekly, No. 44 contains many interesting subjects. Tomorrow, Ruth Stonehouse appears in the Bluebird feature, "Love Never Dies." The little girl would dance all day while her childhood sweetheart played upon his violin her favorite melody, Mendelssohn's "Spring Song." Fate ruthlessly separated the little sweetheart and strangely threw them together in later years. They renewed their love, along unconventional lines, were once more torn apart by pursuing misfortune, but in the end were happily reunited. "Love Never Dies" is the title of the Bluebird photoplay carrying this theme through five intensely interesting acts. Ruth Stonehouse and Franklin Farnum will play the sweethearts in the story.

PETEY DINK—Of With the New and On With the Old. Eh, Pete?

Says Simple Remedy Prolonged His Life

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Effective as a Remedy for Constipation.

Among older people the various organs of the body have a tendency to slow up and weaken, and this is usually first manifest in a pronounced inactivity of the bowels. Good health is dependent on regularity in this important function; whenever there is the slightest indication of constipation a mild laxative should be taken to relieve the congestion and dispose of the accumulated waste. Cathartics or purgatives should not be employed, however; these are too violent in action and their effect is only temporary.

A mild laxative such as the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is the ideal remedy. It is gentle in its action, bringing relief in an easy, natural manner, without griping or other pain or discomfort, is pleasant to the taste and can be obtained in any drug store.

Mr. Robert LeForge, 918 Kirkwood Boulevard, Davenport, Iowa, says he has always had a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the house for the past eighteen years, and that by using it occasionally as the need arises, and in this way keeping his health good, it has prolonged his life, and brought ease and comfort. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists everywhere, and costs only fifty cents a bottle. To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes be sure to get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow cation in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

"Thank you."

She played the game well, was quite calm. He admired her coolness. Certainly she was pretty, and certainly too, she was interested in him. He wasn't without a certain charm. As he turned he caught the glint of her eyes, and there passed between them a glance of complete comprehension. The interior glared.

"The room was not empty. His brother was there, listening to the comments of O'Hara, his friendly rival.

"Good work, boy," said O'Hara, and clapped a heavy hand on his shoulder.

"That last case was a wonder. I'm proud of you, and your brother here is justly so. It was the Edwards' method, wasn't it? I saw it done at his clinic in New York."

"Glad you liked it. Yes, Edwards was a bit of a mine in Berlin. A great surgeon, too, poor old chap!"

"There aren't three men in the country with the nerve and the hand for it."

O'Hara went out, glowing with his own magnanimity. Doctor Ed stood by and waited while his brother got into his clothes. He was rather silent.

There were many things when he wished that their mother could have lived to see how he had carried out his promise to "make a man of Max."

Sometimes he wondered what she would think of his own untidy methods compared with Max's extravagant order—of the bag, for instance, with the dog's collar to it, and other things. On these occasions he always determined to clear out the bag.

"I guess I'll be getting along," he said. "Will you be home for dinner?"

"I think not. I'll—I'm going to run out of town, and out where it's cool."

The street was noticeably hot in summer.

"There's a roast of beef. It's a pity to cook a roast for one."

Useful, too, this cooking of food for two and only one to eat. A roast of beef meant a visit, in Doctor Ed's modest-paying clientele. He still paid the expenses of the house on the street.

"Sorry, old man; I've made another arrangement."

They left the hospital together.

Everywhere the younger man revolved

the house of success. The elevator man bowed and flung the doors open, with a smile; the pharmacy clerk, the doorman, even the convalescent patient who was polishing the great brass doorposts, tendered their tribute. Doctor Ed looked neither to right nor left.

Sidney, after her involuntary bath in the river, had gone into temporary ecclesias at the White Springs hotel. In the evening of the kitchen stove and her two small white shoes, stuffed with paper so that they might try in shape.

Back in a detached laundry, a sym-thetic maid was ironing various soft white garments, and singing as she worked.

Sidney sat in a rocking chair in a hut behind the house. She was carefully swathed in a sheet from neck to toes except for her arms, and she was being as philosophic as possible.

Someone tapped lightly at the door.

"It's Le Moyne. Are you all right?"

"Perfectly. How stupid it must be for you."

"You doing very well. The maid will soon be ready. What shall I order for supper?"

"Anything. I'm starving."

"I think your shoes have shrunk."

"Flatterer!" She laughed. "Go away and order supper. And I can see fresh lettuce. Shall I have a salad?"

K. Le Moyne stood for a moment in front of the closed door, for the mere sound of her moving, beyond it. Things had gone very far with the Fages roomer that day. In the country; not so far as they were to go, but far enough to let him see on the brink of what misery he stood.

He could not go away. He had promised her to stay; he was needed. He thought he had endured seeing her marry Joe; had she cared for the boy. That way, at least, his safety for her. The boy had fidelity and devotion written large over him. But this new complication—her romantic interest in Wilson, the surgeon's reciprocal interest in her, with what he knew of the man—made him quail.

From the top of the narrow staircase to the foot, and he had lived a year's torment! At the foot, however, he was startled out of his reverie. Joe Drummond stood there waiting for him, his blue eyes recklessly alert.

"You—you dog!" said Joe.

There were people in the hotel parlor. Le Moyne took the frocked hat by the elbow and led him past the door to the empty porch.

"Now," he said, "if you will keep your voice down, I'll listen to what you have to say."

"You know what I've got to say."

"This killing to draw from K. Le Moyne anything but his steady gaze."

Joe jerked his arm free and clenched his fist.

"What did you bring her out here for?"

"I do not know that I owe you any explanation, but I am willing to give you one. I brought her out here for a rolley ride and a picnic luncheon."

He was sorry for the boy. Life not having been all beer and skittles to him, he knew that Joe was suffering, and was marvelously patient with him.

"Where is she now?"

"She had the misfortune to fall in the river. She is upstairs." And, seeing the light of belief in Joe's eyes:

"If you care to make a tour of investigation, you will find that I am enter-ly truthful. In the laundry a maid—

"She is engaged to me"—doggedly.

"Everybody in the neighborhood knows it, and yet you bring her out here for a picnic. It's—it's damned rotten treatment."

His fist had clenched. Before K.

bade her smiling, that only the edge of the summer moon shone through the leaves. She went white and clutched

the edge of the table, with her eyes closed. That gave her quick breath a shove. It was madness, pure madness. She was always seeing him, even in her dreams. This man was older, much older. She looked again.

She had not been mistaken. Here, and after all these months! K. Le

Moyne, quite unconscious of her presence, looked down into the valley.

Wilson appeared on the wooden porch above the terrace, and stood, his eyes searching the half-light for her,

if he came down to her, the man at the table might turn, would see her—

She rose and went swiftly back toward the hotel. All the guests were gone out of the evening for her, but the forced a lightness she did not feel:

"It is so dark and depressing out here—it makes me sad."

"Surely you do not want to dine in the house?"

"Do you mind?"

"Your wish is my law—tonight," he said softly.

After all, the evening was a disappointment to him. The spontaneity had gone out of it, for some reason. The girl who had thrilled to his glance

those two mornings in his office, whose somber eyes had met his, fire for fire, across the opening of the door, was slipping. She sat back in her chair, sitting little, starting at every step. Her eyes, which by every rule of the game should have been gazing into his, were fixed on the oilcloth-covered passage outside the door.

"Think, after all, you are frightened?"

"Terribly."

"A little danger adds to the zest of things. You know what Nietzsche says about that."

"I am not fond of Nietzsche." Then,

with an effort: "What does he say?"

"Two things are wanted by the true man—danger and play. Therefore he seeks woman as the most dangerous of toys."

"Women are dangerous only when you think of them as toys. When a man finds that a woman can reason—do anything but feel—he regards her as a menace. But the real danger is an is really less dangerous than the other sort."

This was more like the real thing.

To talk careful abstractions like this,

with beneath each abstraction its concreted personal application, to talk of woman and look in her eyes, to discuss new philosophies with their freedom to discard old creeds and old moralities—that was his game. Wilson became content, interested again. The girl was nimble-minded. She challenged his philosophy and gave him a chance to defend it. With the conviction, as their meal went on, that Le Moyne and his companion must surely have gone, she gained ease.

It was only by wild driving that she got back to the hospital by ten o'clock.

Wilson left her at the corner, well content with himself. As he drove up the street he glanced across at the Pace house. Sidney was there on the doorstep, talking to a tall man who stood below and looked up at her.

Wilson settled his tie, in the darkness.

Sidney was a pretty girl. The June night was in his blood. He was sorry he had not kissed Carlotta good night. He rather thought that he looked back, she had expected it.

As he got out of his car at the curb,

a young man who had been standing in the shadow of the trebuch moved quickly away.

Wilson smiled after him in the darkness.

"What you, Joe?" he called.

But the boy went on.

Sidney entered the hospital as a probationer early in August. Christine was to be married in September to Palmer Howe, and, with Harriet and

K. in the house, she was that she could safely leave her mother.

The balcony outside the parlor was already under way. On the night before she went away Sidney took chairs out there and sat with her mother until the dawn drove Anna to the lamp

in the sewing room and her "Daily

Thoughts" reading.

Sidney sat alone and viewed her world from this new and pleasant angle. She could see the garden and the whitewashed fence with its morning glories, and at the same time, by turning her head, view the Wilson house across the street. She looked mostly at the Wilson house.

DE PALMA HOPES TO BURY A JINX AT UNIONTOWN

Speed King Expects to Hang Up New Record for Speedways.

OTHER DRIVERS ARE ENTERED

Some Speedy Racing Is Promised When the New Bowl Is Opened for Its First Meet; Experts Say It Will be One of Fastest Bowls in U. S.

It is well assured that new records are to be established on the Uniontown speedway. With the foremost racing drivers of America making the speediest motor creations of the world, there is no doubt of the fact that the new track will go down in history as one of the fastest. If not the fastest, speed bowls in the world.

Among the stars entered who will give a good account of himself is Ralph De Palma, who is regarded by sporting experts generally as the greatest all-around driver the racing world has ever brought forth. Ralph is one of the latest entrants and Charles Johnson, president of the Speedway, was much elated over the fact that this famous Italian driver was coming to Uniontown for the meet. In courage, resourcefulness and conservative driving, De Palma is admitted to be without a peer. This is not only because of what he has accomplished, but because of his heady work while driving which is always distinguished by great steadiness and coolness. Ralph radiates sunshine and his happy disposition has won him thousands of admirers.

De Palma shares with the late Harry Grant the distinction of being the only driver who captured the Vanderbilt Cup twice in succession. Ralph began racing automobiles in 1903 and probably has had the most meteoric career of any of the famous drivers. During his early days De Palma, although driving most brilliantly, was unlucky in road contests, but so successful was he in track events that he was crowned the "mille track king." In the 1908 Grand Prix race at Savannah, De Palma drove three of the fastest laps, outdriving his American and European rivals, the latter including the great Nazzaro, Wagner, Humber and Klein. While leading in this event De Palma was forced out of the race near his last lap with a broken cylinder. A similar mishap occurred to him at the Indianapolis speedway race a few years ago.

During the first year Ralph won 10 heats and three seconds out of 15 starts in 1909 out of 47 starts he won 34 heats, 5 seconds and 1 third—unplaced 3 times. The following year out of 47 starts he won 29 heats, 7 seconds and 4 thirds, unplaced 3 times. Since then he has won nearly 150 contests on track, road and speedways, holding many speedway records. One of his most brilliant speedway victories was the winning of the International 500-mile sweepstakes at Indianapolis, in 1915 in which event he established a new record for the Hoosier course. His victories this year have been many and varied. He won first with his Mercedes at Des Moines, Minneapolis, Kansas City and Omaha. Ralph broke all speedway records at Chicago recently. In this race of 250 miles Ralph led up to 200 miles and was forced to retire. The jinx followed him also at Tacoma, Wash., in a 300 mile race in which he led up to 4 miles of the finish. Uniontown has always been an "Honorable Place" for Ralph and he believes he will capture the big event on Thanksgiving Day.

House Cleaning

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene
by Samuel G. Dixon, M. D., LL. D., Commissioner of Health.

It used to be the custom of housewives to clean their homes twice a year and now advanced sanitation requires that the home must be kept clean at all times.

The benefit of cleanliness about the home reflects both upon the physical health and the morality of our people. The necessity of cleanliness in our homes has become so manifest that it is not worth while to dwell further upon it.

During the recent battle against infantile paralysis, we took two small towns which were badly infected with the disease and had the homes cleaned; insect life destroyed, food kept clean and no garbage, ash piles or manure was allowed to collect. The streets and alleys were made clean in each town and infantile paralysis rapidly disappeared. The cleaning up of the municipalities seemed to run parallel with the subsiding of the disease.

The fact that the disease spreads at times beyond the boundary lines of these dirty breeding places is no argument against the theory of cleanliness as a preventative of infantile paralysis. At present it is well to look upon filth and insect life as factors taking a large part in permitting the so-called plague to invade our homes.

There has been much said upon the possibility of an epidemic next year. This will not necessarily follow. It might however and certainly it will come back some day.

Cleanliness regarding our children, homes, stables, yards and towns as well as guarding our houses from all kinds of insect life must be insisted upon by each individual citizen and by those in charge of the health and cleanliness of our towns, country, villages and homes.

Mushroom Prices Soar.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—For an explicable reason except speculation mushrooms have soared in price to such a height that the authorities are being called on to step in, establish maximum prices, or take some similar measure to keep them within reach of the common people.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur With It
to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

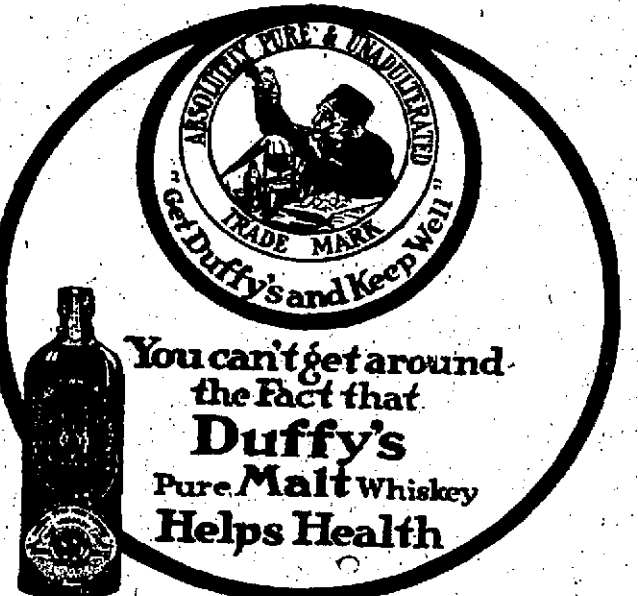

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

FEAR AEROPLANES

Wild Ducks Do Not Tarry Along North Sea Coast.

KIEL, Germany, Nov. 14.—Ornithologists have discovered that the wild duck does not like the aeroplanes, apparently taking it for some huge bird of prey. From the North Sea coast of Schleswig-Holstein it is reported that the great flocks of ducks, which in previous years stopped for rest and food on the coastal sands and islands on their flight from the Far North to the South have avoided that region this year.

The explanation offered is that they were frightened away by the many aeroplanes that are constantly scouting along the coast.
